CLOSES FIRST YEAR OF ACTIVITY IN BEHALF OF LOCAL CHARITIES

Interdenominational Committee of Protestant Churches of Town Have Performed Great Community Service

The final meeting of the season of the Interdenominational Committee in Brookline was held on Friday afternoon, May 6, at the home of Mrs. R. S. Douglas on Fuller Street with a goodly number present. The early part of the afternoon was devoted to brief remarks by Mrs. Elizabeth K. Taft of the Brookline Friendly Society and Miss Annie R. Townsend of the Brookline Anti-Tuberculosis Society and reports on the first year's work by the heads of church societies and the superintendents of local charities, after which refreshments were served and a social hour was spent by the ladies in becoming better acquainted. All felt that bringing the ladies from the different local churches together as co-workers in charitable endeavor was a pleasant feature of the committee and that the year had been prolific of beneficial results, as attested to by both Mrs. Taft and Miss Townsend, who said: "We have never before been helped so promptly, generously, and systematically."

The committee was formed in the spring of last year to assist organized charities in Brookline and the original plan called for a representative of the women's society of each Protestant church of the town as a member. Two of the churches, the Beacon Universalist and Baptist, were not reached at the time the committee was formed but came in later, working for a shorter period, while two others, the Presbyterian and the New Church, only recently learned of the committee and its work. It is hoped that by next fall the committee organization will be completed with every local church represented. During the past year the societies and institutions assisted were the Brookline Friendly, Community Health Center, Anti-Tuberculosis Society, Contagious Hospital, Chandler Service Homestead, and Civic Society's Girls' Camp. The heads of these sent to the secretary of the committee a list of their needs, which were reported to the women's societies of the churches by the respective representatives, and each organization became responsible for certain articles.

The reports given at the recent meeting follow: —

Harvard Congregational: Health Center — 1 bed supported ($100), 800 surgical dressings, 100 garments; Civic Society's Girls' Camp — 6 middy blouse suits; Anti-Tuberculosis Society — 1 girl clothed at Westfield Tubercular Camp, 24 garments.

The Inter-Church Committee

For several years the ladies of many of the churches of Brookline have worked for the Brookline charities. In the fall of 1919 the officers of all the women's societies of each of the Protestant churches of this town were invited to be the guests of the Woman's Guild of the Harvard Congregational Church. Here the methods of work of these different societies were talked over and this work for Brookline was shown to be a very important feature. Other churches followed the example of Harvard Church and the ladies realized so much pleasure and help from this intermingling, that the Inter-church Committee was formed as a result.

In the spring of 1920, a representative lady from each of about nine churches met, to plan for inter-church work and association. The plan accepted was that there should be a secretary appointed, to whom the Brookline Friendly Society, the Health Center, Anti-Tuberculosis Society, Civic Society, and Girls' Camp should send a list of articles and garments needed. Copies of these should be taken by the representative of each church to her woman's society and the work divided so there should be no overlapping. During the year additional help was asked and as the committee had several meetings, these were cared for in the same way.

For different reasons some churches were not reached during the first year, but at the last meeting in May, 1921, held at the home of the secretary, every Protestant church had its representative. Reports were given that over 3,000 articles, large and small, had been given, six children at the Anti-Tuberculosis camp at Westfield had been cared for, beds supported at the Health Center, donations made to the milk fund, etc. Mrs. Taft of the Brookline Friendly and Health Center and Miss Townsend of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society said they had never been so systematically and satisfactorily cared for before. After the business was transacted, a very social getting-acquainted hour was passed.

By September first typewritten lists of the needs of the beneficiaries had been received by the secretary and sent to the members of the committee. Early in October there was a meeting in the parlors of St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal Church, each lady reporting for her society. Plans had to be rearranged to prevent duplication, but all needs were provided for, also work for the Red Cross. The ladies of St. Mark's served tea and a social hour followed. Every local church is now working for this fall's work. The secretary has been made a member ex-officio of the Brookline Women's Council. The next meeting is to be held at the Health Center. Reports of work done will be given and donations brought of fresh and canned fruit and vegetables, jellies, etc., for the storeroom of the nurses' table.

This committee embodies a rather new idea, but those interested hope it will be carried into many other towns and cities, as it seems to be a fine exhibition of the rapidly growing spirit of unity between all churches. All connected with it, workers and heads of institutions, are so happy in the spirit of friendliness developed, and the work accomplished. The members for 1921–1922 are as follows: Harvard Congregational Church, Mrs. Helen T. Peak; Leyden Congregational Church, Mrs. E. J. Hammond; All Saints Episcopal Church, Mrs. G. H. Ellis; Church of Our Saviour, Mrs. P. S. Parker, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Mrs. Robert F. Bigelow; St. Mark's Methodist Church, Mrs. A. C. Morey; First Parish, Mrs. E. G. Denny; Second Unitarian Society, Mrs. Harry Burley; Beacon Universalist Church, Mrs. Walter B. Leach; Baptist Church, Mrs. Albert M. Higgs; Brookline New Church, Mrs. George Berry.

MUCH HELP GIVEN TO LOCAL CHARITIES

Inter-Church Committee was Very Active Past Year

The Inter-Church Committee, representing the work of all the Brookline Protestant churches for the benevolent societies of the town, held its second meeting of the year in the Guild Hall of All Saints Church, on Tuesday afternoon of last week. There were about twenty ladies present.

Mrs. R. S. Douglass, the secretary, gave a partial report of the work done by the ladies' societies of the different churches. She stated that two Brookline children had been completely clothed at the Anti-tuberculosis camp at Westfield, and that $100 had been given to support a bed at the Health Center, and $125 for some special need. She also stated that articles made for the Red Cross included one-hundred twelve layettes, two hundred twelve pairs knit stockings, sixty-four sweaters, and eighty-seven knit hoods, and that 1,563 surgical dressings had been prepared for the Red Cross and Health Center; that 775 articles of clothing or furnishings had been made for the Social Service of Brookline Friendly, Anti-tuberculosis Society, Health Center, Girls' Camp, and Boys' Camp, and more than fifty jars of fruit and vegetables had been given the Health Center. Beside these, the church ladies sew for their church missions at home and abroad, for the Homeopathic Hospital and the Children's Hospital.

MRS. ROSWELL DOUGLASS

The report of the treasurer showed that the receipts from the tables of the three Protestant churches at the Brookline Day bazaar early this year were about $2,500.

After the reports were given, Mrs. A. W. Cummings of the Welfare Committee of the Children's Hospital gave a very interesting talk about the work done there and related many interesting incidents. She invited the ladies to an afternoon tea to be given at the hospital.

A social hour followed, during which Mrs. Charles E. Denison, the All Saints representative on the Committee, assisted by other ladies of the church, served light refreshments.

TOWN HAS ACTIVE CHARITY AGENCY IN THE INTER-CHURCH COMMITTEE

Unites Ladies' Societies of Protestant Parishes in Systematic Work and Has Fine Record of Accomplishment

In the fall of 1919 the Ladies' Guild of the Harvard Congregational Church invited the officers of the ladies' societies of all the Protestant churches in Brookline to meet with them socially. Each president was asked to give a brief account of the methods of work in her own church, and from these accounts it was evident that the work done for Brookline benevolences was an important department. From this was developed the idea of organized work, so results could be more systematized and duplication avoided. In the spring of 1920 a meeting was held and an Inter-Church Committee formed, consisting of a secretary and a representative from each woman's society of the Protestant churches of Brookline. The procedure is to present a list of the several benevolences and their needs to the secretary, and she passes them to the members of the committee who presented them to their individual societies whose members decide what they will do, then the committee meets and these lists are so rearranged as to avoid duplication.

In May, 1921, the annual meeting was held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. R. S. Douglass of St. Mark's Methodist Church. By this time every church was enrolled and was represented at the annual meeting. It was reported that the benevolences helped during the year were Brookline Friendly, Social Service, and Health Center, Anti-Tuberculosis Society, Civic Society Girls' Camp, Contagious Hospital, Chandler Service Homestead. Mrs. Elizabeth K. Taft of the Friendly and Miss Annie R. Townsend of Anti-Tuberculosis were guests and spoke briefly of their work and agreed that they had never been helped so efficiently and satisfactorily as since the formation of this committee. Each church had its report and the total was three thousand garments made; six children outfitted for the sanitarium at Westfield; beds at a cost of $100 each, supported at the Health Center; donations made to the milk fund, etc.

On October 21 the first monthly meeting was held at St. Mark's Church and work was arranged for the year. In December a meeting was held at the Health Center and the ladies were deeply interested in Miss Mann's story of the wonderful work accomplished there. The visitors left a table filled with jellies, canned fruit, etc., for the use of the nurse's table. At the Brookline Day held in February of last year for the Brookline Friendly, through this committee all the churches were easily interested, and every church had a table adding in all over $2,000 to the treasury. The Brookline Friendly entertained the committee at its annual meeting in May. Figures for the work done last year are not available for this article but the record was equal to that of the year before. The first meeting of the 1922 season was held in October, the ladies of the Baptist Church being the hostesses. Red Cross and the Children's Hospital were added to the list of beneficiaries. In December a meeting was held at All Saints Church at which Mrs. Cushing of the Welfare Committee of the Children's Hospital spoke very interestingly of the work and needs of that institution and invited the committee to be the guests in January of the Hospital. The invitation was accepted and quite a number of the ladies spent a pleasant hour, going through the wards, then meeting socially for afternoon tea. The annual spring meeting was held at the Church of Our Saviour, ladies of the church acting as hostesses. Some of the pastors of Brookline were guests, as well as the representatives of the benevolences assisted. A report was made as follows:

Two thousand two hundred and fourteen garments were made, three children outfitted for Westfield Sanitarium, thirteen layettes made for Red Cross, 17,865 dressings for Health Center and Children's Hospital, $200 contributed for two beds at the Health Center.

In the three years since its formation about 8,000 garments have been made beside the hospital supplies, children clothed for Westfield, beds supported at Health Center, over $2,000 turned in at Brookline Day, besides much work for poor families in town. Members have all enjoyed the association together, and the complete unity in working together for the less fortunate members of God's family. The feeling of Christian fellowship existing in Brookline might be an excellent one to be copied in all communities. The pastors of all the Protestant churches meet each month socially, and talk over the needs and interests of the town and the part each church has in solving the problems. Each month the pastor's wives meet for lunch at the parsonages, to know each other better, and the possibilities for woman's work here. Now comes this Inter-Church Committee bringing together the women of the churches in mutual interest and work. All these facts refute the statements occasionally made public through newspapers, concerning the aloofness of the church from the people and petty sectarian differences.

Work for Year Oct 1923 to May 1924.

The first meeting of the season met at St Pauls Church - Webster Mrs. A. E. Ritchie - Hostess.
It was a very stormy day - raining in torrents but representatives were there from eight churches - about eighteen - Three members sent their lists by mail - as they were unable to be present. Every church was represented except the Presbyterian. The Sec-y Mrs Douglas - asked Mrs P. S. Parker to assist her - in making out the lists of articles to be made by the different Societies. After the business meeting - Miss Mann of the Health Centre - and Miss Litchfield - successor of Mrs Sept at the Brunswick Foundry Social Service Dept - came - and Miss Litchfield was introduced to the Ladies.
An invitation to hold our Tea meeting at the Beaver Universalist Hall - was received - also one from the Leyden Church for our meeting in May. Ladies of the 2nd Parish gave an invitation for us to come at any time.
Mrs. P. S. Parker reported that the building of the Girls Camp at Bridgeton Maine.

needed repairs that would cost about $3 Hoo. She said the committee had decided to have a small sale - in the down stairs hall - of the Public Library Bldg. and asked each church to take a table - alone - or with some other church. The sale to be held Nov 24th — Mrs Parker was to let the Ladies Know particulars later. The Ladies served afternoon tea.

Meeting held May 5th 1924

The annual Spring meeting of the Inter-church Committee of Brookline was held in the Beacon Universalist Church on Monday May 5th at 2.30 P.M.

There was a good attendance of members and guests from the churches. Mrs Percy - member of the Board of Managers of Brookline Friendly - Miss Sommers - of Anti-Tuberculosis Society. Miss Mann - from Health Center - Mrs and Mrs Rook from the Women's Societies Federation of Women's Church Societies were all present.

The meeting was opened by repeating the Lords Prayer in unison. The Secretary then called for the reports of work done for the year. After the reports were read - the representatives of the Brookline Friendly Social Service, Health Center, Anti-tuberculosis Society - and Civic Society Girls Camps - all spoke briefly of the help received from the united work of the churches. Mrs Douglas - said the Chairman of the Welfare committee of the Children's Hospital - wished her to express her appreciation of help received. Mrs C.E. Parker reported the result of the Sale held in the basement of the Public Library for the benefit of the Civic Girls Camp. $300 was raised - which was sufficient to make all repairs needed at the Camp. Mrs Douglas then offered her resignation as Secretary - saying she was obliged to this on account of her health. Mrs P. S Parker moved a rising vote of thanks to the retiring secretary. Mrs Douglas suggested Mrs. A. C. Merry of St Innals M.E. Church - as her successor. It was moved - and seconded that Mrs Merry be appointed Secretary. It was voted upon and she was unanimously elected. Mrs Douglas then introduced Mrs Merry to the Committee. Mrs Douglas said she had been invited to attend a luncheon of the Federation of Women's Church Societies - but could not attend. She had however invited two members of the Federation Council - to tell of the work being done. Mrs. G. E. Gathrop of Bowsline was the first speaker. After a very short address she introduced Mrs E. T. Root of Somerville - President and founder of the Federation - Mrs Root spoke very interestingly of the history of the movement, of its growth and work. She invited the Committee to choose one of their members as a representative to the Council – but the matter was deferred till the Fall Meeting. Mrs Walter Leach of the Beacon Church was hostess – and with other ladies of the church served delicious tea. After a social time the meeting was adjourned.

Reports of Inter-church Committee for 1925—
1st 2d

Inter-Church Committee

The first meeting of the winter of the Inter-Church Committee of Brookline was held in the parlors of the Leyden Congregational Church on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. A. C. Moury, the new chairman, presided, and every Protestant Church in Brookline was represented by one or more ladies. The report of the last meeting in May was read as was a report of the work done by the several churches, through this committee, as follows: For Children's Hospital — $50 cash given, 2,646 articles made from material furnished by the hospital; Brookline Friendly Social Service — 143 new articles of clothing made and material given by churches; Health Centre — 385 articles for hospital and patients made, material given by churches; Anti-Tuberculosis Society — 134 articles of clothing made, material given by churches, two children fitted out for the Westfield Outdoor School and Camp; Civic Society's Girls' Camp — 32 middy blouse and bloomer suits made, material given by churches, two girls sent to camp, $300 made at a sale to repair the buildings at the camp. This makes a total of 3,340 articles made, costing several hundred dollars, besides the $300 raised for the Girls' Camp. Many articles of good second-hand clothing were donated also. This only represents the work done by the Women's Societies for Brookline, each society working for other hospitals, homes, mission fields, etc. The list of articles needed by these societies for the coming winter were then read and rapidly taken by the representatives of the church societies. At the close of the business meeting, tea was served by Mrs. M. A. Hall and other ladies of the Leyden Church and a social hour was enjoyed. The meeting adjourned to meet in February at the Harvard Congregational Church.

Inter-Church Committee

The winter meeting of the Inter-church Committee was held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Leland of Harvard Church last Saturday afternoon. Ladies were present from most of the churches allied with the committee. Mrs. A. C. Morey, chairman, said that at this mid-season meeting they had no reports of work to be done, nor of work already done, but came together to consider any matters of general interest and to get better acquainted with each other. Mrs. Morey said that in spite of the long lists of articles needed, presented to the committee at its fall meeting, by the Brookline Friendly Union, Anti-Tuberculosis Society, Children's Hospital, and other organizations, some of the church societies asked for more to do, so she had invited Mrs. Pollock of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Homeopathic Hospital to present their needs. Mrs. Pollock told a very interesting story of the thousands of patients that were treated, only one-fourth of whom pay full price, showed patterns of garments needed for old and young, which are all cut out ready to be made, and asked for some of the societies to take some of these garments. The chairman then introduced Rev. Dr. E. T. Root of Somerville, who gave a very interesting and illuminating talk on the work of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches and of its Women's Department. He spoke of successful work along the lines of political and social service. It was voted to send delegates to the annual luncheon to be given by this Woman's Federation in April. A very pleasant social hour followed. The hostess served very tasty Valentine's Day refreshments, sandwiches, cakes, and candies, all being heart-shaped. Everyone felt it was a delightful way of meeting each other and co-operating in the work. The spring meeting, when the work done during the winter is reported, will be held in May.

INTER-CHURCH BODY HAS SPRING MEETING

Reports Show Nearly 15,000 Articles Made and $429 Given Past Year

The spring meeting of the Inter-Church Committee was held in the parlors of the First Parish Church on Monday of last week. All but one of the local churches were represented, and other ladies were present, making a company of about thirty. Mrs. A. C. Morey, chairman, presided. Miss Anna Townsend of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society told of the needs of that society and said she had never been so well provided with garments, as she had through the help of the committee. Mrs. Philip S. Parker spoke for the Civic Society's Girl Camp at Bridgton, Maine, while Miss Mana of the Health Center, representing both departments of the Brookline Friendly, said the work at the Health Center had nearly doubled, and particularly impressed upon the ladies that any one, rich or poor, could have the service of a district nurse. Miss Coburn, chairman of the speakers' committee of the Children's Hospital, told of the wonderful growth of the hospital, and thanked all for their help.

Mrs. ~~Asbrand~~ of the Baptist Church reported that she attended the annual luncheon of the Women's Department of the Federation of Churches. It was voted that this committee should annually attend meetings of this department and stand ready to help in any federated work possible, but should not formerly connect with it. Mrs. Douglas reported having talked with a Jewish lady in reference to having their women's societies allied with the committee, and it was voted to invite the Jewish women's societies to send representatives to the committee.

The reports showed that considerable work was done by the women's societies of the Protestant churches of the town during the past winter, proving that the local parishes are harmoniously combined in work and spirit and alive to the needs of those whom they can assist, and that the church and the people are one in interest and Godly love. The articles made included 2,579 garments, 1,586 hospital supplies, and 10,800 surgical dressings, while $429 was given. The articles were distributed as follows: Red Cross, 137 garments; Civic Society for girl's camp, 49 middies and bloomers; Anti-Tuberculosis Society, 160 garments and 39 articles of clothing to completely fit out one boy and one girl for camp; Children's Hospital, 807 articles made from material furnished; Friendly Society, 181 garments for social service department and 267 articles, 1,586 hospital supplies, and 10,800 surgical dressings, in addition to $300 to support beds and $129 for the surgical fund, for the Health Center; Homeopathic Hospital welfare department, 187 garments made from material furnished; and House of the Good Samaritan, 52 garments. Many of the societies worked for other benevolences in and around Boston and made hundreds of articles for the mission fields, while besides the new garments many second-hand articles were given, also Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets.

At the close of the meeting the committee was the guests of the ladies of the church at afternoon tea, Miss E. G. Denny acting as hostess.

Inter-Church Committee

The fall meeting of the Inter-Church Committee of Brookline was held on Wednesday of last week at the Health Centre, Miss Mann hostess. Mrs. A. C. Morey, chairman, presided, and opened with prayer, after which the minutes of the spring meeting were read, reporting 2,579 garments, 1,586 hospital supplies, 10,800 surgical dressings made for contributions of $429 given to the Red Cross, Civic Society for Girls' Camp, Brookline Friendly Health Centre, Welfare Department of the Homeopathic Hospital, and the House of the Good Samaritan. Mrs. F. S. Percy, president of the Friendly, spoke of the Salvage Shop, which is to be opened in the building of the society, telling also of the "Friendly Day" to take place in November in the form of a sale, bridge, and fair. The real business of the afternoon was the selection of work for the ensuing year, taken from the lists of needs supplied by the several charitable organizations for which the churches of Brookline are working. Every article was spoken for, so that the women will surely be busy during the winter months, in order to complete the much needed work.

Miss Anna Townsend, secretary of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, extended a cordial invitation, in the name of that society, to hold the next meeting at her home on Irving Street and it was voted to accept the invitation and with no further business to come before the meeting, Mrs. Morey declared it adjourned to February. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed and an opportunity given those present to go over the building and to be informed as to the work of the Health Centre.

Midwinter Meeting 1925-1926.
Feby. 13, 1926 Saturday-

Interchurch Committee Feb. 13

The mid-winter meeting of the Interchurch Committee of Brookline was held ~~last~~ Saturday afternoon at the home on 9 Irving Street of Miss Annie Townsend, secretary of the Anti-Tuberculosis Scoiety. Mrs. A. C. Morey, chairman, presided and all but one of the Protestant churches of the town were represented by one or more ladies. In opening the meeting Mrs. Morey mentioned the death of Mrs. R. S. Douglas, long chairman of the committee, and at the time of her death acting as secretary. Mrs. Louis M. Spear of the Second Unitarian Society was elected secretary to fill the vacancy. Mrs. William Taff, chairman of the committee in charge of the Brookline exhibition for the blind, spoke briefly, stating that the exhibition, demonstration, and sale, the second to be held in Brookline, will take place in Whitney Hall, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 30 and 31. She introduced Mr. Edwin Stickney from the office of the Commission for the Blind who told of the work done in self-supporting industries, educational, and recreational work by the blind. Mrs. Taff then requested the co-operation of the Interchurch Committee on the two days of the sale. It was voted to do so, and a list of the churches which would be responsible for the required number of ladies in attendance on the two days was made. As the mid-winter meeting is not primarily a business meeting, no other business was transacted. Mrs. William E. Chenery entertained the ladies for a delightful hour with an account of her trip last summer to the Orient. Much interest was added to the narrative by the articles Mrs. Chenery showed which she and Dr. Chenery had collected in China, Japan, Korea, and elsewhere. At the close Miss Townsend served afternoon tea.

Inter-Church Committee Tues. May 4

The spring meeting of the Inter-Church Committee was held ~~last week~~ at the home of Mrs. George C. Warren on Kent Street, with Mrs. A. C. Morey, the chairman, presiding. Mrs. Morey announced the receipt of a note from Mrs. William Taff thanking the committee for taking charge of one of the tables at the Sale for the Blind in Whitney Hall. Miss Annie Townsend for the Anti-Tuberculosis Society and Miss Mann for the Brookline Freindly thanked the committee for the large amount of work done for their societies, and told of the great help it has been in their work. Delegates from the Protestant churches who were present gave reports of their year's work. The articles made included 4,459 garments, 2,480 hospital supplies, and 10,000 surgical dressings, while $391.75 was given. The articles were distributed as follows: Red Cross Society, 93 garments; camp Brookline, Bridgton, Maine, 29 khaki camp suits; Anti-Tuberculosis Society, 244 garments and 34 articles of clothing to completely fit out one boy and one girl for camp; Children's Hospital, 2,160 articles made from material furnished; Friendly Society, 133 garments for the Welfare Department and for the Health Center, 397 articles, 2,480 hospital supplies, and 10,000 surgical dressings, in addition to $100 for a bed, and $129.50 for an emergency maternity fund; Homeopathic Hospital, ~~welfare department~~, 1,111 articles made from materials furnished; House of the Good Samaritan, 64 garments. Many second-hand garments in good condition were given. Inaddition to the above list which includes only the work given out through the committee, every church has worked for other benevolences in and around Boston and in its own mission fields. At the close of the business meeting Mrs. William R. Leslie gave an informal talk on her recent trip to Europe under the title of "An Adventure Among our Friendly Enemies," which was very interesting and informative of the post-war political and social conditions in central and southern Europe, and was interspersed with humorous episodes of the trip. The ladies of the New Church, who were hostesses for the afternoon, served tea at the close.

The subject of joining the Council of the Federation of Women's Church Societies was brought up for discussion. Mrs. Dabell made a motion that the Inter-Church Committee join the Council. After discussion the matter was withdrawn as it did not seem to be advantageous and the power to act for this individual society in this matter.

Spring Meeting,
Sat. May 14, 1927.

The spring meeting of the Inter-Church Couns. met Sat. afternoon, May 14, at the home of Mrs. Arthur J. Dyer at 126 Sewell ave. (For All Saints Church) Delegates and interested friends from the 12 protestant churches of Brookline were present. The meeting was called to order at 2½ P. M. by the chairman, Mrs. A. C. Morey. After the roll call, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Morey announced the resignation of the secretary, Mrs. Louis M. Bpear. It was voted the chairman appoint a nominating committee of 3 members to find a new secy. Mrs. Dyer, Mrs. Philip Parker, and Mrs. Peak were appointed to act. A rising vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Bpear for her services the past 2 years.

The chairman announced that unless there were objections no action would be taken in regard to articles sent to the Brookline Friendly Bey. If any individual church preferred not to have "left-over" articles placed in the rummage shop they could so state when sending, and the "Friendly" would observe their wishes in the matter. As this arrangement was satisfactory to the delegates no further action was taken.

It was announced that St. Mark's Church would entertain the Committee at the fall meeting.
A letter was read from Mrs. G. E. Gillespie, wife of the Presbyterian minister, who, in leaving Brookline, sent the name of the new delegate from that Church. She expressed her pleasure in having worked with the Committee, and hoped to find something as worth while when they were going.

Reports of the year's work done by the Churches was then given by the delegate from ea. church. The reports showed that 4164 garments, 479 Hospital supplies, and 11810 Surgical dressings have been made, while $265 in money has been given through this Committee, beside a large amount expended for materials. The articles made were distributed as follows.

The Brookline Friendly Welfare T.E.P.C. — $10 in money, 153 garments
Community Health Ch. — 422 garments, 11610 Surgical dressings, $100 for a fund, $105 " Emergency Maternity fund.

Anti-Tuberculosis Soc.	341 articles
Camp Brookline (girls)	12 Bathing Suits 34 Khaki Camp Suits
American Red Cross (Credited to Brookline)	704 garments
Mass. Homeopathic Hospital	562 articles 336 hospital supplies 200 surgical dressings
Children's Hospital	1495 articles 144 hospital supplies
Horses of the Good Samaritan	155 garments.

Many 2nd hand garments in good condition were given. In addition ea. church has done more or less work for Boston & nearby agencies as well as for their own denominational missions fields.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. H. P. McElroy, formerly of Kentucky, now of Boston spoke of the educational work among the Kentucky mountain people. Mrs. McElroy, a young woman of most pleasing personality & a fascinating speaker was field secretary of the Friendship School in Knott County, Ky., & is conversant with conditions in that state. She spoke first of the different temperaments of the northern & southern people which accounts for the slower development in the South along educational lines. She stated that in the 20yrs. since the work among the mountain people was undertaken, that illiteracy has been reduced from 70 % to 10 %. She was most emphatic that the term "poor whites" should not be applied to these but people who are of pure Norse stock, descended from the earliest settlers in the colony. Graduates from the Hindman School are entering our northern Universities, being accepted in their fraternities &c.. This School, established in 1902, which, by the way, celebrates its 25th anniversary this year, is but one example of a number of others carried on by the devoted friends who are trying to better the conditions of these people and make them good citizens.

At the close of the talk tea was served,

Inter-Church Committee

The spring meeting of the Inter-Church Committee was held last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur T. Dyer on Sewall Avenue, with delegates and interested friends from the twelve Protestant churches of Brookline present. Mrs. A. C. Morey, the chairman, who presided, announced the resignation of the secretary, Mrs. Louis M. Spear, and it was voted the chairman appoint a nominating committee of three to find a new secretary. The work of the committee was substantially increased last year, the reports showing that 4,167 garments, 479 hospital supplies, and 11,810 surgical dressings were made, while $265 in money was given, beside a large amount expended for materials. The money and articles made were distributed as follows: Brookline Friendly, $10, 153 garments to welfare department, 422 garments, 11,810 surgical dressings, $100 for a bed, and $105 for emergency maternity fund to Health Center; Anti-Tuberculosis Society, 341 articles; Camp Brookline, twelve bathing suits, 34 khaki camp suits; American Red Cross, 704 garments; Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital, 562 articles, 335 hospital supplies, and 220 surgical dressings made from material furnished; Children's Hospital, 1,480 articles, 144 hospital supplies from material furnished; House of the Good Samaritan, 155 garments. Many second-hand garments in good condition were given. In addition, each church has done more or less work for Boston and nearby agencies, as well as for their own denominational mission fields.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. W. P. McElroy, formerly of Kentucky, now of Boston, spoke of the educational work among the Kentucky mountain people. She mentioned the different temperaments of the northern and southern people, which accounts for the slower developments in the south along educational lines, and stated that in the twenty years since the work among the mountain people has been undertaken that illiteracy has been reduced in the state from seventy percent to ten percent. At the close of this most interesting talk, tea was served and a social hour enjoyed.
